TO GO MENU AND CATERING

What is Gelato. Most people do not know that ice cream was invented in Italy, developed by Sicilians using a freezing process involving ice and salt. In the 16th Century, a Sicilian monk Francesco Procopio perfected this technique. The tradition of gelato making was passed on from generation to generation by gelato artisans. Today in Italy, Sicilian gelato is still regarded as the best gelato overall.

What is the difference between Italian Gelato an American Ice Cream? North American Ice Cream is made with a much higher percentage of air content and fat content. Premium Brand ice cream are about 16% fat while super premium products are over 20% fat. A higher fat content gives a creamier texture, however the true flavor are masked. GELATO has much less air content, therefore smoother and very low in fat content (2 - 8% depending on which product). Gelato is also frozen less deeply, tastes lighter with an intense flavor. This is why after having gelato it feels less heavy than most North American Ice Creams.
